The shower was given in the large Palmisano Club dining room which was artistically decorated with fall flowers. On a lace covered table bright with flowers the gifts were arranged in the form of a large package and as the bride-elect came into the room where the guests awaited her she was told to untie the surprise package and there she found her gifts.

More than forty guests were there laden with good wishes for the honoree and were served with delicious refreshments by the hostesses. The wedding though quiet will claim much attention because of the popularity of the contracting parties.

American Red Cross

For the past year, in this community, the Blood Donor Service, has played quite a large part in the work of the Red Cross. We have been called upon to give to the Mobile Unit which visited us every seven days. The response of the people was most spontaneous and generous. Our quotas were always met. The Volunteer Workers of the local Chapter, under the earnest supervision of our very able chairman, Dr. Marion J. Wolfe, worked capably and willingly aiding the Technical Staff of the Unit. For such splendid cooperation, and for the generosity of every one, the Chapter and its representatives would like to give their heartfelt thanks. With-out YOU this service could never have been successfully completed.

Dr. Wolfe in receipt of the following letter which we would like you to be familiar with. It is self-explanatory. For the present time the continued taking of blood for plasma is unnecessary. Until such time, when we may again be called upon to donate, which we sincerely hope will not occur as the prayers of each one of us are for a speedy end to the war, the Blood Donor Service will be discontinued.

Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Chairman, Blood Donor Committee, American Red Cross, Hancock County Chapter, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Dr. Wolfe:
As you no doubt have learned through the press, and from Southeastern Area, American Red Cross, the New Orleans Center, together with the Centers located in Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio, Texas, have "COMPLETED THEIR MISSIONS" and will discontinue operations October 15th, 1944.

Mrs. Denberry and I want you to know how much our association with you and those active in your Chapter has meant to us. It has been a genuine pleasure to collaborate with you in the successful operation of the Mobile Unit, and without your wholehearted cooperation and genuine devotion to the cause, we can assure you that our task would have been impossible.

To be sure, it is with a note of regret on the one hand that we are suspending operations because it breaks up a fine and loyal organization that has worked wholeheartedly, and separates the congenial ties we have made with our cooperating Chapters.

Our feeling, on the other hand, is that the mission has been completed; we have done all that we have been asked to do, and it is undoubtedly a step forward toward peace, to know that not as much blood will be needed from here on. Rest assured in closing that you and all your "workers" will always have a very deep place in our hearts.

With warm personal regards, we are,
Yours sincerely,
Allard S. Kaufmann, Service Director
Mrs. Ralph Denberry,
Special Assistant in Charge,
Mobile Unit.

C-Rations Lose Appeal In South Pacific Area

Somewhere in the Southwest Pacific—(Special Release)—"C-rations has lost their appeal," the perspiring sergeant said. "Them guys has gone native."

Standing besides a huge stack of canned food, the non-com in charge of the ration detail swept his arm in a broad gesture towards the verdant jungle that concealed the troops of the 31st Infantry Division.

Sgt. Clois R. Dedeaux of Bay St. Louis, Miss., who has the job of getting food to the three thousand men of an infantry regiment, for a week. He found that the G. I. diet grew less and less popular as each day passed.

"First of all they started eating coconuts," Sgt. Dedeaux said, "and then they found out about the milk inside the green ones, and that gave them something to drink."

"Papayas taste the best," tho," said Private Edgar G. Goss, from 7 Lakeshore Circle, Atlanta, Ga. "I'd walk a mile with full pack for one ripe papaya."

"Me too," added Sgt. Dedeaux, "and so would anybody else. I wish the folks back home could taste some of this stuff. They'd really go for these palm hearts, and I know they like bananas and pineapple."

"In the meantime us guys on the ration detail can go easy on the C-rations. Ain't nothin' worse than meat and beans or vegetable hash, or vegetable stew, when there's plenty of fresh fruit around."

"That's right," echoed the other three on the detail. They were Pvt. Robert D. Baker of Old Hickory, Tenn.; Pvt. Paul A. Brogren, 5008 Russell South, Minneapolis, Minn.; and Pvt. Hawley C. Petry, Brookville, Ohio.

"And when you get thirsty and run out of coconut milk, you can always chew on sugar cane," Goss said. "That's an old Southern custom."

Sgt. Dedeaux is a son of Mrs. Amelia Dedeaux and the late Roger Dedeaux. His father was a veteran of World War I.

WAR FUND DRIVE GOES "OVER THE TOP"

In the late afternoon of Wednesday, "Over The Top Day" for the National War Fund, Mrs. George R. Rea, Hancock County Chairman, reported to Jackson that, with the money deposited in the bank and money collected by the workers but not yet in the bank, Hancock County had gone over the top. Jackson said it was the second county to make this report.

Mrs. Rea and her co-chairman Mrs. Roger Boh, have expressed themselves as giving a large amount of credit for this splendid showing to their valiant workers. Mrs. Rea said publicly and personally that it has been a pleasure to have worked with her committees and that she deems it an outstanding piece of team work on the part of her workers. This shows what can be done where there is one hundred percent cooperation.

In President Roosevelt's nationwide radio appeal for the War Fund Drive he said that large contributions to war funds demonstrated that there is no letdown in the nation's unity and represents democracy at its best. He said "Through war fund donations we send a token of our own personal friendship to the tragic victims of brute slavery and to those who have so long borne the burden of fighting this war."

With this splendid showing that Hancock County has made second in the state, it is hoped that those who have not contributed, who have not seized the opportunity to help the men and women who are making it possible for the home front to be preserved, will come forward and make their donation, large or small, in order that peace may be brought sooner. Better to give than to wish that you had.

Seeking Names Of All Men Killed in Service

Many men and women from Mississippi are lost each month now by death in the service of our country as the tempo of the war has increased.

Every citizen of every community is anxious to assist the returning veteran and also to aid and comfort the loved ones of those who will never return.

Governor Thomas L. Bailey is most anxious to express the appreciation of Mississippi to the families of those who have died in the service, as well as to offer aid and comfort to these remaining loved ones.

A canvas is being made in each community of the state, through the local boards of selective service, to be certain that no names are being overlooked as this list grows. As clerk of local Board No. 1 of Hancock County, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, I urge each citizen of this community to report by card or letter the name of any man or woman from this community who has died in the service during the war. It also will be necessary to show the name of the nearest relative if known. Mail this at once to the officer of the local board of selective service.

GEORGE HEITZMAN Clerk,

AWARDED BRONZE STAR

PFC PHILLIP SCAFIDE

PFC Phillip Scafide, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scafide of Bay St. Louis, has been awarded a Bronze Star since he has been in France. We quote herewith a letter that we have received from this boy:

"Dear Red:
"I received your paper for the first time since I have been in France, and I want to thank you and your staff who make it possible for us who are overseas to keep up with the news of our home town. I haven't met any boys from home yet, but I know there are a lot of them over here doing their job to get this war over with."

"I have seen a lot of these so called, supermen, and they look more like a bunch of babies. I just wish you could see them. I talked to one of them the other day and he said if they had our equipment an production they could lick the world. I told him, with their brains and ability they are lucky to be alive—"You asked for it to you, but not the way you want it."

"Well, everything here in France is going along O. K., but there is no place better than that little town of Bay St. Louis, for me."

"I have received the Bronze Star since I've been in France. I've been over here for quite some time now. I guess there will be a big Xmas at home, but we will have a big one too, and it will be in Berlin."

"Well, I must close now. I'm getting late. I want to thank you again for your good will in sending me the paper. I am feeling fine and hope everyone back home is the same."

"Tell all hello for me."

Sincerely yours, Phillip."

It is always a pleasure for us to receive news from our boys to know that they are receiving the papers.

A SENIOR SOLVES THE ETERNAL QUERY A FEATURE EDITORIAL

(By Rudolph Ramelli)

OFTEN, as we go through the routine of our daily class work—and more frequently after hours—some college lads ask themselves, silently perhaps, but nevertheless quite seriously, the question:

"Why all this daily bookwork? Why so much discipline? Why all this talk of character development?"

Many times we wonder whither we are going. The answer all lies within our very selves. We are heading straight as the crow flies toward a future which seems made for us, a big, bright future in the non-too-far distance. More than any previous generation of young men we youth of today have awaiting us a new world of opportunity that promises everything.

Whether it be in the professional field, in business, or in some aspect of the spiritual life, present times are opening up a vista of opportunities for great good and usefulness such as civilization itself has never dreamed of before.

The enterprise, initiative, ambition and character development given us here at St. Stanislaus from our freshman year through high school are going to be the beacon lights that will steer us on the path to the leadership in our country. Every senior can look back to the time when, on first entering this school, he found difficulty in adjusting himself, felt personal pain at being away from home, and nurtured a natural longing for the freer outside life with all its frivolities and youthful enticements. However, as time went by they began to see the light, and they soon learned to appreciate the wisdom of their parents' foresight. They realized that the friendliness, sympathy and good fellowship of the boys, the serene spiritual beauty of the college routine, was worth it all. They became more and more attached to their Alma Mater and, today, there is not a single boy in the senior class who isn't deeply grateful to his parents for sending him to Stanislaus.

And now that the country is calling for young men of vision, character, integrity, and spiritually strong, this grand institution will send out into the world more strong-hearted, sturdy and patriotic boys who, along with the hundreds who have preceded them, will make a formidable army. They should prove themselves real Americans—true christian gentlemen, worthy of such great character builders as Brothers Peter, Casimir and the other distinguished members of the St. Stanislaus faculty.

No boy need fear that when he steps out from the threshold of this college to enter upon his career that he will not be fit for the fight. Nor need anyone fear that there will be a lack of great opportunities out there in this rapidly rebuilding new world. New countries will spring from the reconstruction of the old torn asunder by the outrages perpetrated by false leaders. Unlike ourselves, either these men were not given the opportunities of mental and moral development, or perhaps through utter and ruthless disregard of what they were taught, have devoted themselves to the unchristian practice of killing and destroying.

Hence, let us continue to appreciate the grand opportunities afforded us here. Let us become thoroughly conscious of the fact that now is the time to prepare ourselves for the bright future ahead. Having great dreams of the future are meaningless if we do not tackle the great problem of the present, our daily school work. The days in school are the stepping stones into the realm of future success.—St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw, October 14, 1944.

A REAL INVESTMENT IN THE FUTURE

THE world conflict in which we find ourselves has been going on for such a long time that now, with victory seemingly a foregone conclusion we are somewhat tempted to develop an indifferent attitude as regards our personal sacrifice for the future of America. Scanning the home-front tactics of the enemy countries we can see easily enough that the people in those countries are compelled to make sacrifice after sacrifice in behalf of the war effort. They are not working for themselves either, but for tyrannical leaders. Here in America we are cognizant of the fact that our efforts, however small, will insure the continual harvest of opportunity. Our individual contribution alongside the innumerable investments of others will insure our future security.

In times of peace our government seldom calls on us for anything. All she asks is that we be good citizens and apply ourselves to the task of developing whatever talents and aptitudes we might have. Uncle Sam can hardly be called mercenary.

At the present time when so many of our loved ones and friends are overseas in a life and death struggle with our enemies, it is surely a small request to make when our government pleads with us to BACK UP OUR FIGHTING MEN through the purchase of War Stamps and Bonds. We should realize by this time that the American government pays the highest rate of interest of any nation on its bonds. Also, we know that no other government has the backlog of resources and gold to back up its pledged word. Let us, then, hereby resolve to redouble our War Stamp purchases weekly. That is the least we can do for the future of our beloved country—America—Frank Tychemen.—St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw, October 14, 1944.

Campaign Funds

Mississippi is being asked to contribute $20,000 to the national campaign fund for the Democratic party in the election now pending. Harold Cox, prominent lawyer of Jackson, has been named to direct the collection. The list of contributors has been headed by Gov. Thomas L. Bailey with a check for a "substantial" amount. Mayor-elect, Leland Speed, has given the matter his support and will make a contribution. People over the state will find it convenient to mail their checks to Harold Cox, Jackson, Miss.

Bond Drive

War Bond Drive No. 6 will begin on November 20 and will run through December 16. The amount to be asked for in this drive is 14 billion dollars. This may or not be the last drive, most likely not the last. Secretary Morgenthau, of the U. S. Treasury, stated last week that drive No. 7 would likely come along later. In the drive now coming up Hon. Rex I. Brown, of the Mississippi Power and Light Company, will be the director for Mississippi. Mr. Brown attended a conference in New Orleans last week in which 11 states were represented, making plans for the new drive. Mr. Brown has acted in this capacity before and has rendered a great service to the state and the government.

GI Bill of Rights

The "Flying Squadron" is now touring the state to explain just what the GI Bill of Rights means to the service men. Quite a number of government agencies are sending representatives along with the squadron to explain the different features of the bill and what service men may obtain under its provisions. It is highly important that this information be given to the public every person in the state is interested in what can be done for the men in service. Nobody knows right now just when Germany will fall out of the war and demobilization of soldiers will begin, but the best informed people of the country, military and civilian believe it will not be many more months. Japan will hold out longer than Germany and there will not be any discharged from the Navy until it is all over in the Pacific.

Bilbo in New Orleans

Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, who has been recuperating at his Dream House from a recent operation at Mayo Clinic, was in New Orleans last week on business and pleasure and while there inspected the big Cotton Laboratory which he had a great deal to do with establishing. He thinks that much good will come from the experiences and tests made in an effort to find wider use for cotton. He spoke of his sixty-seventh birthday anniversary which was then just three days ahead of him.

Oil Development

Oil development in the state is going forward with very satisfactory results. Many new oil wells have been brought into production and many others are being drilled with fine prospects of success. Oil production in the state began five years ago in the Tinsley Field. At first, of course, there was but one well, but other, followed in rapid succession. The state now has ten or twelve individual fields and about 406 producing wells. In the five years of oil production in the state the total adds up to right about 80 million barrels with a market value of approximately one dollar a barrel. In the past this state has been fortunate in having large supplies of timber from which many millions of dollars have come and now the oil is coming along to supply for the disappearing forests until they can be rehabilitated.

NOTICE

There came on for consideration by the Mississippi Seafood Commission at its regular October, 1944 meeting, the consideration and adoption of the following ordinance:

ORDINANCE NO. 24

An Ordinance making it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to use or set any seine or net of any type or any fish trap in the waters of the Bay St. Louis North of a line extending from the center of the mouth of Bayou Boisdore in Harrison County, sometimes called Malini Bayou, and the site of the Canning Plant or Factory belonging to Dorgan Packing Company, near the Head of Second Street, in Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, and the Rivers, Bayous, Bays, Streams and other waters tributary to said designated part of the Bay of St. Louis and all streams, inlets and bodies of water whatsoever connecting therewith, all in the State of Mississippi, and making it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to catch or take any fish from any of said waters by means of any net, seine or fish trap, or providing a penalty for the violation of said Ordinance.

Whereas, the Seafood Commission of the State of Mississippi finds that taking and catching fish in the waters of the Bay of St. Louis north of a line extending from the center of the mouth of Bayou Boisdore in Harrison County, sometimes called Malini Bayou, and the site of the Canning Plant or Factory belonging to Dorgan Packing Company, near the Head of Second Street, in Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, and the rivers, bayous, bays, streams and other waters tributary to said designated part of the Bay of St. Louis and all streams, inlets and bodies of water whatsoever connecting therewith, by or with any seine, gill net, trammel net, hoop net, shrimp trawl or dragnet, and/or any similar contrivances or any fish trap, is inimicable to the conservation and propagation of fish and other valuable seafoods which are the property of the State of Mississippi in trust for the people thereof, and that the use of any such seine, gill net, trammel net, trap or like contrivances in any of said waters destroys the breeding grounds of such fish and seafoods and tends to deplete the said valuable natural resource of the State of Mississippi; and that said waters are within the SECTION 1: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to take or catch any fish or other seafood by, or with, any seine, gill net, trammel net, hoop net, barrel net, dragnet or fish trap in any of the waters of the Bay of St. Louis north of a line extending from the center of the mouth of Bayou Boisdore in Harrison County, sometimes called Malini Bayou, and the site of the Canning Plant or Factory belonging to the Dorgan Packing Company, near the head of Second Street, in Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, and the rivers, bayous, bays, streams and other waters tributary to said designated part of the Bay of St. Louis and all streams, inlets and bodies of water whatsoever connecting therewith.

SECTION 3: BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, that any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be fined in the sum of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the jail of the county in which such violation of this ordinance is committed for not more than thirty days for each such offense, or punished by both such fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SECTION 4: Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the catching of mullet by use of cast nets in the waters described herein.

SECTION 5: This ordinance is cumulative to and additional to any other ordinance affecting the waters described herein and shall not be construed to repeal any ordinance now in effect.

SECTION 6: BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, that each section of this ordinance is declared separable and if any section or part thereof be held invalid, unconstitutional or void, the balance of this ordinance shall remain in full force and effect.

SECTION 7: BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, that any ordinance or part of ordinance of this Commission, in conflict herewith be and the same is hereby repealed; and the public necessity requiring it; that this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and that the Secretary of this Commission be, and he is hereby directed to make publication of this ordinance in a newspaper published in Harrison County, Mississippi, and in a newspaper published in Hancock County, Mississippi.

SAVE FOODS FATS AND FUEL

Grandma Knew Just What To Do... AND HOW TO DO WITHOUT

Scraps, nails and string... paper, fats and fuel... anything and everything that could serve another time or another purpose was saved by our ancestors as a matter of dire necessity. The frugality of America's rugged pioneers helped to win battle after battle in our nation's history.

Today, our country asks us to practice that same frugality to help win the war, to save our way of life and to protect our freedom of opportunity for every American family.

Peace and the change-over from war-stimulated activity will pose many problems to challenge the ingenuity of every one of us. Fortune will favor the family that has learned to save and has bolstered its future by the purchase of War Bonds. It's so much sounder to save than to wait to be saved.

A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY "MARINE RAIDERS"

Pat O'Brien, Robert Ryan,
Ruth Hussey, Co-Starred
In Action Melodrama About
The Corps That Has Never Been Licked

Dealing with Uncle Sam's Marines in action and in training, and embodying one of the finest romances ever filmed, "Marine Raiders" presents a vivid and unforgettable picture of the Corps that has never been licked.

Pat O'Brien and Robert Ryan as Marine Officers, and Ruth Hussey as a lieutenant in the Australian Women's Air Force Auxiliary, have the stellar roles in the RKO Radio offering, with Frank McHugh and Barton MacLane heading the featured cast.
The story opens on Guadalcanal, with O'Brien and Ryan taking an active part in that memorable struggle.
When the Army arrives and takes over, the two officers are sent to Australia where Ryan meets Miss Hussey and the two fall in love. Before they can get married, Ryan is wounded during a sneak tap air raid and sent to the hospital.

O'Brien thinks Ryan is not really in love and with the best of intentions arranges for Ryan's transfer back to the States. Furious at O'Brien's actions, Ryan refuses to speak to him except in line of duty, but the pair work together in helping to train a group of rookies in jungle-fighting tactics at a big Marine camp in California.

At O'Brien's urging, Ryan goes along when a large detachment is sent to Australia, to recapture the Philippine Islands. As soon as he can reach Miss Hussey, Ryan marries her and the happy pair are reconciled with O'Brien.

The three stars are said to give the finest portrayals of their careers in this striking film, and the romantic sequence between Ryan and Miss Hussey have won praise from the critics for their naturalness and charm.

Memorable scenes of the Guadalcanal fighting and of the all-out air-and-sea attack on the Japs, are balanced against intriguing glimpses of the thorough training given Marine rookies in the tricks and technic of jungle warfare ranging from a working language to knowing what to eat in jungle foods.

McHugh and MacLane play a pair of hard-boiled sergeants and the cast includes Richard Martin, Edmund Glover, Russell Wade, Robert Anderson, Michael St. Angel, Martha MacVicar and Harry Brown. Harold Schuster directed the picture produced by Robert Fellows, based on an original story by Martin Rackin and Warren Duff, with Duff writing the Marine Corps served as technical director for the film.

...and then came the highways

AMERICA'S growth has largely followed the routes of American railroads. They penetrated the wilderness and created wealth for the Nation. Around these efficient arteries of transportation grew great cities, busy industrial centers and prosperous farming communities.

Subsequently, fine highways were constructed. The railroads not only carried most of the materials to build those modern thoroughfares, and spent large sums for separation of grades at crossings for public safety, but have actually contributed greatly in taxes for highway construction and upkeep. In 1943, for example, about $800,000 of L&N tax payments were allocated for highway purposes in the 13 states through which it operates.

Highway separations at railroad grade crossings have become increasingly important as faster-moving vehicles have multiplied. Originally, railroads were—and in some states still are—required to bear the largest part of the cost of such separations, although the public has always received the greater benefits.

Certain states have now recognized that equity calls for a fairer distribution of the costs.

Cotton Crop

The government's estimate, given out last week, places the cotton crop of 1944 at 11,953,000 bales. This is an increase over the forecast given out a month ago. The latest estimate for the per-acre yield is 284.6 pounds of lint cotton as compared to 253.5 pounds per acre last year.
This places the per-acre yield at 395 pounds, which tops all other cotton states. Ginning at this time is behind last year, mainly because the crop is slightly later and pickers have been hard to get. The forecast for Mississippi at this time is approximately 350,000 bales above the average for the past ten years.
If the state's forecast is reached and the present price of cotton and cotton-seed holds up Mississippi will receive more than 200 million dollars for the 1944 cotton crop.

WITH THE FISHERMEN AND OTHER SPORTS

By KANCHU KETCHUM

HUNTING, fishing, boating and most any kind of out-door sporting weather has been with us for the past week. That tinge of the North winds mixed with the good old sunshine urges most everyone to want to get outdoors. It looked like old times to see the many boats up the river, their occupants were trolling, some were fly fishing, some were still fishing and some were just boating. All got a good share of fish!

Speckles, green trout, red fish and most all species were biting at their best.

Henry Osoinach and his paddler caught some nice green trout Sunday afternoon.

C. C. McDonald and party spent Saturday afternoon up Jordan river on his boat. Oscar Bragg accompanied him. The lady members of the party report catching some sheephead and the men folks some green trout.

Mr. Joe di Benedetto and daughter Miss Jennie di Benedetto report a nice catch of large speckles.

Oc Delph and Alden Mauffray spent last Wednesday afternoon putting Oc's boat in tip-top shape, getting ready to do some trolling.

Alden Mauffray and Arthur Scatfield went to Bayou Cadet Sunday to bring Alden's inboard boat around to Jordan river where he will keep it for use with winter.

A. G. Favre and John Mollere took time out Sunday afternoon to go trolling up Jordan River. They did not report just how many they had.

Pete Porter and the Missus have been enjoying several boat trips up the river for the past several weeks. Their friends have had many good times aboard the big boat.

Ray Stieffell and R. C. Kirst of New Orleans made a fishing trip out front last week end. They report catching plenty of all kinds of fish.

Other fishermen raring to go after the speckles and who enjoy trolling for them are Lucien Gex, Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Dr. Louis Maumas, Walter Favre, Grady Perkins, Millard Toulme, Pat Cassidy and others. Let's hear about them when you go!

Missing from the weekly fishermen was Bob Genin. Bob was under the weather over the week end but said that he will be after them soon. He whiled away his time at home going over his tackle box and putting it in order. A thing all good fishermen do occasionally.

Among the hunters who have been out squirrel hunting and who report getting their share are Pete Porter, John Mollere, August Rauxet, Gus Aime and others who have not reported their luck as yet.

Among dove hunters who are awaiting the reopening of the dove season are Bob Genin, Alvin Genin, Judge Henry Fayard, Oscar Bragg and Pete Caruso.

It is hard to think of the many around here who enjoy outdoor sports. Reports of their trips will be reported from time to time. Let us hear from you.

Joe Scharff has joined the many who intends to purchase an outboard motor (if possible). Joe intends to do some fishing in the near future.

Many people are noted fishing from the banks of the many streams hereabout, which are plentiful. Among those seen Sunday were Tax Assessor George Cuevas his wife and family, who spent the evening up Bayou Phillip.

Fox hunters are beginning to get the urge to go after them. Talk can be heard by dog owners who say the weather favors fox hunting now and they will be after them soon.

Thousands of ducks have been seen coming this way—many were seen last week in front of the seawall at the end of North Beach. They were mostly "Teal Ducks," according to some observers. Won't be long now before we'll be after them—and according to reports they will

Starring Paul Lucas Academy Award Winner

As a piece of literature, Kressman Taylor's widely read book from which this was made was a mighty mite, possibly carrying as much wallop in proportion to its size as anything written in recent years. Film version is comparably short for a feature of its sterling quality, but it packs as much power per foot as did the original per page. Produced and directed with consummate skill and artistry by William Cameron Menzies, enacted by an inspired cast, every member of which contributes an outstanding performance, it is a picture every thinking person will want to see, every unthinking person should be made to see. A revelation of the workings of the Nazi mind during the party's rise to power in Germany, it is also a commanding indictment of bigotry and plea for religious and racial tolerance. Smartly merchandised, the film should be a winner.

The report on quail says that they too, will be plentiful. Many have been seen in the woods nearby.

If you intend to do artificial fishing, and hunting this year, get yourself a license. If you don't you'll wish you had.

It must have been a big "red" said Joe Burrow who claims he fought him for five minutes. He finally got away. This statement was verified by Tony Piazza who was trolling with Joe Sunday up Jordan River. They caught some nice speckles.

Nothing has been learned about flounders and soft crabs lately. Don't let the cold weather fool you. They are still there—just a little nerve is needed to go after them.

Thanksgiving Day

The matter of fixing a definite day for Thanksgiving has again been up in Congress, and the country seems more or less confused about it. Several states, where they exercise their own choice, have fixed the 30th as the day, but so far the President has not suggested any change in his proclamation for the 23rd; hence there will be no change in Mississippi.

waiting for you and so will the fish and game. You are still hunting and we know you will bag "that Peace" which we are all hunting for.

Tony Enterante is all primed up for some hunting and fishing, but says that he is too busy working at Higgins for Uncle Sam to find the time to go. That time will come Tony, after our work is done.

Dr. Baker never misses an opportunity to go after them. He always brings some fish home.

L. H. Dinkelstein enthusiastic fisherman has been spending the past two weeks here as the guest of his old friend G. Y. Blaize the mayor himself. They enjoyed a couple of fishing trips this past week. No report on the catches? "Dink" loves any kind of fishing but lately has fallen hard for fly fishing.

John Bell has secured an outboard motor recently and says he is going after them in a big way.

Theo Tudury says he has been too busy lately but that he will let us know just how big they are after he goes after them. Theo really gets some big ones.

Fishing has been especially good out along the railroad bridge lately. Good catches have been made of speckles, white trout, croakers, ground mullet and other varieties. Dead bait is doing the trick!

ORTIE THEATRE
SUNDAY AND MONDAY
"GASLIGHT"

Charles Boyer, Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotton in M. G. M.'s Fascinating Melodrama

If you are partial to mystery, suspense and excitement in film fare—and who isn't?—then "Gaslight" the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production at the Ortie Theatre, Sunday and Monday is exactly what the doctor ordered. "Gaslight" is perfect war-time entertainment, and is made so by the story and every one connected with production of the film.

The photoplay relates how a beautiful young singer, played by Ingrid Bergman, marries her accompanist (Charles Boyer) and moves into the London house where her aunt, a famous singer in her day, was mysteriously murdered.

The film moves rapidly and with a maximum of excitement as Boyer deliberately sets out to drive his wife insane—for purposes which it would be unfair to relate here. You'll have to see for yourself the devilish ingenuity exercised by Boyer, and learn the reasons for it from the edge of your seat in the theatre. The entrance on the scene of Joseph Cotton, as a Scot Yard man, brings the picture to a gripping climax you'll long remember.

The three stars turn in outstanding performances under the superb direction of George Cukor. And so does every other member of the hand-picked cast.

Arthur Hornblow, Jr., has produced "Gaslight," which was adapted for the screen by John Van Druten, Walter Reisch and John L. Balderston from a play by Patrick Hamilton.

Keeping American
Homes Intact

We're great home lovers in our town. Family folk—like most Americans—so when war came, and the boys left in uniform, and the girls went into war plants, folks began to shake their heads.

Take Ben Ryder's family, for instance—all doing something different. Young Ben's in the Navy, and his sister's in the airplane plant. Ben's foreman at the tool shop, and Ma spends her days at the Canteen.

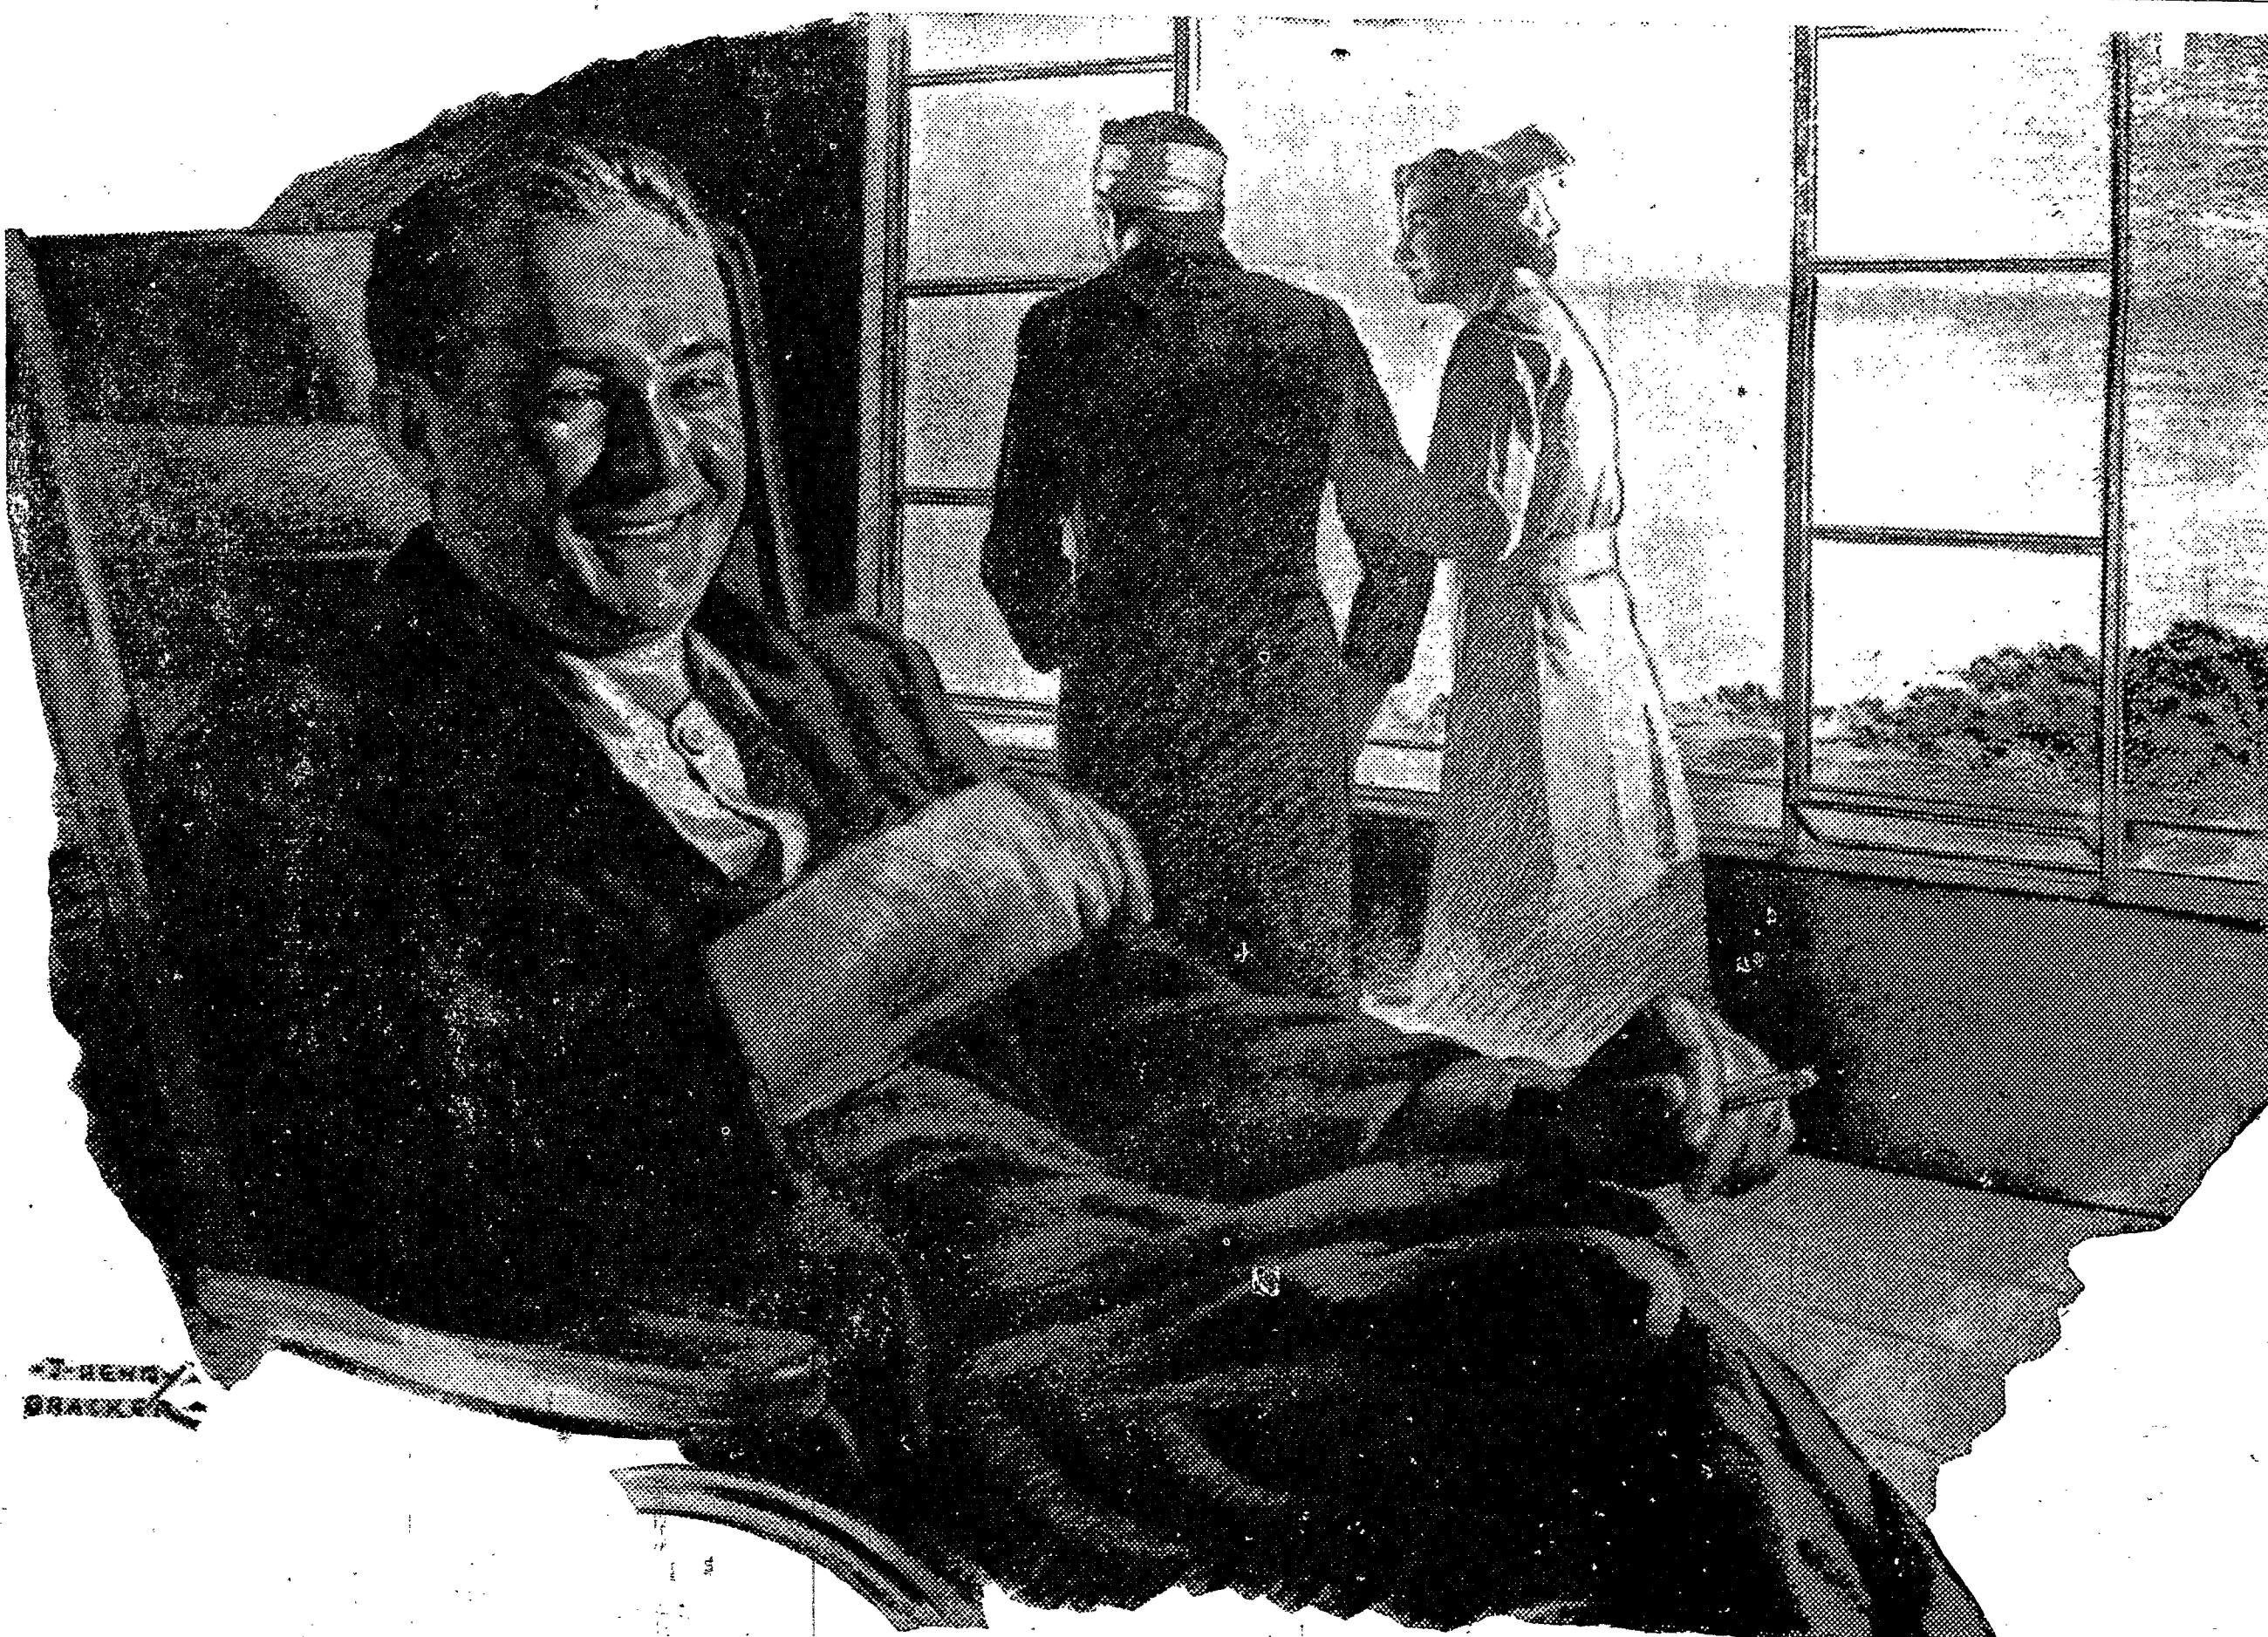

A broken home? Don't you believe it! When Ben relaxes with his evening glass of beer, and Mom and Sis sit down to write their daily letter to Ben Jr., they're closer together than ever... bound by a strong and common purpose—to keep their family, their America, intact.

From where I sit, the strength of America lies in that family spirit—in the tolerance and mutual respect and understanding that have made the American family a strong and vital force for Good!

His job will be ready...WHEN HE IS!

We remember when he first came to work for us...this smiling kid we now call G.I. Joe. He did a good job here, showing the initiative that was his American birthright. He made a place for himself with us, and we were regretfully proud when he answered the call to the colors....

Now he's back from the fighting...banged-up a little, but with the same gay smile on his lips that we used to like to see. He's looking forward to going back to the job he left when he went on leave to join our armed forces. You can bet his job with our Company will be waiting and ready when he is!

HOME ON REST

Lieutenant William C. Putnam, Army Air Force, spent a few hours here on Tuesday enroute from duty in the Mediterranean Area, to Miami, Florida for a rest.

Lt. Putnam is a Bombardier Navigator on a B-26 and has completed his seventeenth mission and has received the Air Medal with four clusters and two Presidential citations. His wing was awarded the Croix de Guerre.

Lt. Putnam could have told an interesting story but as most of the heroes of this war he says little. He shows the strain of his seventy missions but is proud of the record of the American boys.
